SHAKHA GILLIN & VISHAKHA GIGLER

As doctors they wear scrubs, but that's the most casual attire for these high-fashion twins who travel the globe together to shop—most recently at Saint Laurent in Istanbul, where they broke out in “a laughing attack,” says Shakha Gillin. “We’re so similar. So identical,” explains Vishakha Gigler. They are binary to the nth degree: serious one moment and LOL in tandem seconds later at a secret joke nobody else gets. At 17, the duo first decamped to Del Mar to attend UC San Diego and did residencies at UC Irvine.

Gillin heads the in-demand Coast Pediatrics (coastpediatrics.com) in Del Mar, with a second location set to open in Carmel Valley, and Gigler is the Rihanna-loving honcho of the in-demand Comprehensive Dermatology Group (comprehensivederm.com). “I have a special interest in skin cancer, and I perform Mohs surgery,” she pauses, “in my Valentinos, of course.”

On summer trips to India, the twins would be seen wearing matching braids and customizing their seeing-double sari wardrobe. Today, they both live in Del Mar with their families, and have fallen hard for Chanel. “It’s not only about the fashion-forward pieces, but the iconic woman behind the brand,” says Gillin. “Coco Chanel represents the modern woman. She was hard-working and broke down barriers. She represents the woman who says ‘I can do it.’” And, yes, they can. In high-heeled booties, of course.

“SHAKHA’S STYLE

“ROCKER COUTURE. HER LOOK IS A COMBINATION OF RUNWAY AND STREET STYLE.

SHE LOVES JACKETS AND HANDBAGS, AND ALMOST ALWAYS WEARS BLACK. SHE WILL PAIR DIAMONDS FROM CH CHARLES AND VAN CLEEF WITH CHANEL COMBAT BOOTS.”
